

Monica List

Fine artist painting a more idealistic world.

Monica List is a Southern California artist who has harbored a love for the arts from a young age. Monica has had some formal art education in high school, college, and professional art workshops. She earned an Associates Degree in Fine Art from Pasadena City College in 1990.

Monica considers herself primarily self taught in painting. She has painted murals and commissioned paintings for a variety of clients across the state. Her art is displayed in private residences, businesses, schools, and a hospital. She has her paintings available for acquisition in a solo rotating display at a local medical office.
