

About

I am an artist currently based in Southern California who is driven by a commitment to unconscious storytelling. The bulk of my portfolio includes oil and acrylic paintings and experimental video. I have two years of professional experience working as a freelance painter, and plan to pursue my Master's in Fine Arts in the fall.

Statement

My art materializes consciousness as a vast ecosystem, where objects of the mind manifest as objects of the natural world. In this amalgamated space, all things are permitted to exist without justification. Several versions of the self appear in my work, who relate to one another and to their world through ritualistic experiences—we eat, drink, dance, fight, pray, and sleep together. My intention as an artist is to re-sacrilize nature and the experience of being.
